To Whom it May Concern:

I am pleased to recommend Hayman Construction for renovation projects.

Our 150 year old building posed several design challenges and Hayman was quite willing to work with us as we considered options for the location of an accessibility lift. All of the architectural and structural issues were addressed at the outset, and permits were obtained efficiently.

As the project progressed, the site manager and his crew were attentive to the ongoing operation of our funeral home business and sensitive to the needs of the families whom we serve.

Along with the lift project, additional renovations to our building were completed and the results are excellent. The lift operates very well. The installation looks like it has always been there, which is no small feat in a building such as this.

We are most appreciative of the quality of Hayman's work, pricing and scheduling of this project, despite the complications introduced by Covid-19.

Without hesitation, we would recommend Hayman Construction to anyone wishing to undertake similar construction work in the future.

Sincerely,
